Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 19 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 19 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Britz (US Patent # 5,414,444) in view of Knopf (US Patent # 7,170,468).

[Claim 19]

Britz teaches an electronic device comprising: a first casing (housing 116) including a first display portion (121) and having adjacent short and long sides; a second casing including a second display portion (101) and having adjacent short and long sides; first securing means for securing the first and second casings; and second securing means for securing the first and second casings with long sides thereof being in contact with each other is a first protective plate for protecting the first display portion; a second protective plate (116) for protecting the second display portion; first locking means for locking the first protective plate such that the first protective plate extends from the first casing laterally; and second locking means for locking the second protective plate such that the second protective plate extends from the second casing laterally (when the device is closed, there would be some kind of device that would lock the communication device in closed position). Britz fails to teach in which the first and second display units are opened such that the first and second display portions are arranged longitudinally. However Knopf teaches a mode in which the displays are either in the longitudinal direction or lateral direction when open (figures 3 and 4). Therefore taking the combined teachings of Britz and Knopf, it would be obvious to one skilled in the art at the time of the invention to have been motivated to have used a second mode in which the first and second display units are opened such that the first and second display portions are arranged longitudinally in order to have a display be used in multiple direction thereby making it more versatile.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 1, 4-13, 15, 17, 18, 20 and 21 are allowed.

Conclusion

3. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

Art Unit: 2622
